High Yield Credit markets reported a positive performance in March ranging from +1.55% for EM corp HY to +0.43% of the EU HY in tandem with positive equity markets, S&P500 (+3.10%) and Eurostoxx50 (+4.22%). The IG EUR market was positive by +1.21% while the short-term (1-3 year) H1WN global HY index reported a positive performance of 0.73%. The Global unconstrained (in terms of maturity) HY index was positive at +1.00%. In Europe inflation continued to retrace, with core CPI print at 3.1% in February (vs 3.3% in January), even if consensus expected a lower number (2.9%). The ECB meeting was characterized by the release of new staff forecast: the most significant surprise was the cut by 0.2% of the core inflation forecast for 2025 to 2.1%. Lagarde said that a "little more" information will be available in April and a "a lot more" in June: so a cut in April does not seem to be the base case, while doors are open for lower rates in June, even if final decision will still be data dependent. The FOMC and Powell reiterated January's guidance that the FED needs greater confidence in disinflationary pressures to initiate cuts. At the same time FED Chair sent a dovish message, saying that even though the firm January and February inflation prints did little to reinforce this confidence, monetary policy remains restrictive, and inflation is set to slow in coming months. The 10 years bund yield was lower at 2.30% (-11bps in the month), in tandem with the 10 years Treasury at 4.20% (-5bps in the month). Oil moved higher to 87$ per barrel, while US dollar was stronger, with DXY at 104.49. Our funds have a yield to maturity between 6.5% and 8.5%, combined with an average spread duration around 17 months. The combination of diversification, good credit quality and high expected yields pave the way for extremely attractive returns in the next future.

Yield-type strategy

The bucket generated a positive gross contribution to the monthly performance, with 86% of the positions (168 out of 196) contributing positively. During the month we increased our invested capital because conditions remain attractive in the short-term part of the credit curve. The average life of the yield-type portfolio is very short (16 months or average spread duration of 1.36), combined with a yield of 8.15% (net of funding cost in EUR) and z-spread of 481 basis points. The fund is levered, being invested at about 181% currently.
