During September, European credit markets experienced a positive performance (H9PC Index +0.51%) in tandem with a positive movement of the Eurostoxx 50 (+5.07%), while S&P500 reached new historical highs at 2'519 (+1.93% during the month) thanks also to reduced noise from North Korea. Central banks meetings were the main topic of the month: ECB did not surprise the market, postponing any decision on tapering to October and reassuring investors that rates will remain low even after the end of central bank's purchases; due to Draghi's dovish tone, consensus is now pricing the first hike for 1Q19. On the other side both the FED and BoE launched hawkish signals: Janet Yellen clearly indicated December 2017 as the next date to continue its tightening policy (median dots now calling for 3 hikes in 2018), while the BoE gave an hint of possible rate hikes in the next months; both statements surprised the market as it was expecting a more dovish message due to absent wage pressure despite tight labor markets and generally weak inflation. EM credit market had a positive return this month, continuing the recent trend and benefiting from the continuous inflows and pursuit of attractive yield from investors.
