

Swan Short-Term High Yield – EUR

February 2020

Strategy

The sub-fund aims to generate a significant excess return vs 3m Euribor in combination with below-average market volatility. Depending on market conditions, the strategy combines in variable proportions the “buy and hold” investment in a highly diversified and granular portfolio of liquid short-term fixed income securities with the “strategic” and/or “tactical” investment in HY or EM securities denominated in hard currency.

Global market picture

During February European credit markets experienced a negative performance (H9PC Index -1.90%), in tandem with a negative movement of the Eurostoxx 50 (-8.55%) and the S&P 500 (-8.41%). The month started with US NFP above consensus (225k vs 165k) and unemployment rate that ticked up to 3.6%, but still close to its 50 years low, while in Europe industrial production contracted 4.1%, confirming poor data reported by Germany, France and Italy. In the second part of the month Corona virus outbreak took the center of the stage, sending markets in a downward spiral: the diffusion of the virus in Italy and in other European countries, with restrictions imposed on flights and creation of quarantine area, generated panic selling. The S&P500 registered its worst week since 2008 (-11.49%), Eurostoxx50 lost 11.24% in five days, Xover widened 73bps and 10 Years Treasury reached record low level at 1.15% (German 10 years Bund -17bps @ -0.61%). Central banks did not remain on the sideline: Jerome Powell declared that the FED was “closely monitoring” the risks to US economy from virus outbreak, further reassuring investors saying that the FED “will use its tools and act as appropriate to support the economy”, while Christine Lagarde was more prudent on imminent monetary policy changes. Notwithstanding cautious comment by ECB chair market is pricing two cuts of depo rate by March in Europe, while in US expectations are for a 50bps cut at the next meeting. Emerging Credit markets reported a negative performance (-0.74%), with ASIA area being the best performer during the month, thanks to China resilience. Oil was volatile and closed the month at 50.52 USD per barrel (-13.14%), due to downward revision to growth linked to Corona virus effects.
