Credit markets remained extremely negative with year to date performances ranging from -18.43% for EM corp HY to -11.49% of the EU HY component in tandem with the movement of the Eurostoxx 50 (-18.17% YTD) and S&P 500 (-17.01% YTD). The IG EUR market is also negative by -12.01% YTD, mainly due to the rates component. The short-term (1-3 year) H1WN global HY index also reports a performance of -10.56% YTD while the Global unconstrained (in terms of maturity) HY lost -13.26%. US entered technical recession, with growth of -0.9% during the 2nd quarter following the 1Q22 contraction of 1.6%. Inflation and consequently the ECB and FED members comments were the main drivers of the month: in US, a CPI print at 8.5%, a slower annual increase compared with June, initially eased concerns on next FED movements but during his speech at Jackson Hole Powell declared that interest rate will stay at a level that restrains growth "for some time". The ECB officials also sent a hawkish message to the markets, that are now pricing 75bps hike at September meeting to fight inflation. Higher energy prices were the main reason of a high CPI print in Eurozone at 8.9%, and the possible stop of flows from Nordstream1 pipeline from Russia, caused further rise in gas price and additional worries of possible stop in production at several manufacturers. In this context, the 10 years bund yield was higher at +1.54% (+72bps in the month) while the 10 years Treasury closed the month at 3.20% (+54bps). Oil price corrected lower, with Brent now at 96$ per barrel, due to increased concerns on global recession. Thanks to recent volatility spike we have been able to add several new credit stories at very interesting level of credit spreads. The combination of higher diversification, higher credit quality and higher expected yields paves the way for attractive returns in the next future.

Yield-type strategy

The bucket generated a positive gross contribution to the monthly performance, with 83% of the positions (134 out of 162) contributing positively. During the month we slightly increased our invested capital: conditions remain attractive in the short-term part of the credit curve. The average life of the yield-type portfolio is very short (13 months or average spread duration of 1.11), combined with a yield of 13.14% (net of funding cost in EUR) and z-spread of 1204 basis points. The fund is levered, being invested at about 214% currently.
